2016 Year in Review:

In 2016, SAACA directly connected over 100,000 individuals with diverse arts and cultural engagement through the presentation of signature festivals and events.

The expansion of new live music presentations, culinary events, and the Fall Open Studio Tours in partnership with the Arts Foundation for Tucson and Southern Arizona enabled SAACA to promote the talents of over 700 artists.

With the launch of our Undercover Arts Magazine and Resource Directory, over 2,000 local artists were provided a no-cost opportunity to promote their work.

The work we accomplish in our region stimulates creative economic development, enhances the livability of our region, and supports the cultural vibrancy of our community.

Our business and arts integration arm, the Southern Arizona Business Committee for the Arts, connected over 100 local businesses to the power of the arts through integrative employee based programming, as well as enhancing a business's brand in the community and creating new development opportunities.

SAACA believes in the transformation of the healthcare experience by connecting people with the power of the arts at key moments in their lives. Our Creative Aging programs provided no-cost therapeutic and healing arts sessions for over 8,000 local veterans and seniors in our community.

We know that the arts will continue to play an essential role in the quality of our

Statewide education system. Through our collaborative partnership with Community Share forged in 2015, SAACA has continued to expand connections between teachers and artists directly to classrooms.

2016 was an exciting year for the SAACA. Attendance at events reached an all-time high, as well as community engagement in new programs. The growth of our social and online networks successfully increased our ability to advocate for Statewide arts funding to the Arizona Commission on the Arts and to help expand the impact of arts and culture in our region. In addition, our corporate partnerships increased by over 20% in 2016, as well as volunteerism which expanded by over 30%.
